This week in school

Another really great week here at Rushey Green. I have been impressed with how much fantastic written work is happening across the school and how the children are enjoying writing. I have asked that staff prepare a story telling assembly that parents can attend. Something to look forward to during the course of the year.

We had our first RGSA meeting today where we talked about the idea of the RGSA acting as class reps to talk about parental views of the school. If a member of the RGSA asks your ideas about something, don't be offended they are just trying to find out what you think! If you would like to join the RGSA speak to Lilian who would be happy to let you know how you can help.

I have a plan for my office which would involve celebrating the rich cultural diversity of the school. The plan will involve giving me the opportunity to share your family stories, names, journeys and experiences. It will also involve some photos of families. If you would be interested in sharing your story, on my office wall, please let the School Office know and we'll let you know what this would entail.

Only one more week to half term, just a reminder that Friday is an INSET day and Wednesday night and Friday morning are Parent consultation evenings.

1M SCIENCE LESSON

The children enjoyed using cotton wool to create different types of cloud formations.
